C³ UPDATE

Celebrate Cultures & Community

On Saturday May 24th, Downtown Middle School and West Salem neighbors came together on the grounds of Christ Moravian Church for DTMS's end-of-year party, the second annual C³ Diversity Festival.

The day started with drizzle, but that did not dampen the resolve or spirit of hardworking Downtown Middle School students and staff. There were all sorts of games and crafts for the kids. Good food for everyone, and there was Chinese, Irish, and Indian dancing, as well as great music from our neighbor Barry Carlton and friends. The headliner act, The Karen Kendrick Trio with Martha Bassett, was wonderful!

It's too bad C³ only happens once a year. It's a great place to hang out with your neighbors and listen to music while your children enjoy the games. If you know any teachers or students at Downtown Middle School be sure to thank them for the wonderful festival they brought to our neighborhood.

Dog Park Update: The idea for the dog park was formed on April 7, 2002 when seven dog walkers (and nine dogs) were cited for violations of the leash law. This event raised the question of alternatives and was the impetus for forming the WOOF (Winston Organization for Off-Leash Fields) dog park, located in Washington Park.

With the help of Dan Miller and Artie Sparrow (the organizers of WOOF), and many other city officials, generous donators, and loyal volunteers, the WOOF dog park (one of only seven such parks in North Carolina) has become a sanctuary for our dogs to release their energy and develop social skills with other animals and people. Visiting the dog park is a great way for dog owners to socialize as well. People from as far away as Pfafftown and High Point regularly frequent the dog park.

Visit the WOOF web site for park information as well as information on responsible pet ownership. www.danznet.com/woof/. Visit the dog park soon! Your dogs will LOVE it!
